Terms of Service: Privacy Policy: Top Pcmac Reviews Need to change some characters By Gat legend (Pcmac user) Lauren Shiba is ridiculous way over powered with first attack then after if caught by the attack you get burn damage as well. Also allow some of the free characters to have attacks that can force their opponents to go aerial. Also you all should add a free attack option not just three attacks. Also it would be good if they are random selections. To many times it feels like you get the same attack options. Add power rangers turbo or some other rangers. Even out the playing field a bit and I will change my review. This game has so much potential. Add on- So this game has just about done it. Had a problem were as soon as I was about to battle a player it would say prepare to battle then go to the load up screen and say I had to update my game. It happened only when I was about to fight in a battle. Now as soon as the cancel option leaves the screen one you get out of the match you lose no matter what and it brings down your medals. I went from 3800 to 3700. I play this game everyday and have been doing so cause I play while my younger brothers do as well. They have noticed slight changes in gameplay. Many lag problems and we have never had lag problems before with other games. It's a shame cause I started playing the Philippines and now I'm back in Texas I can't even change my region. This app is lacking in so many places. You would think they actually read reviews. Best PR game! By megabyte27 (Pcmac user) This is truly the best power rangers game since Power Rangers Super Legends. A Ranger game where you actually get to play as the Rangers is always the best, not to mention the fact of how many different rangers from different teams are at my disposal. Not to mention the Megazord battles! I absolutely love it! My only complaint thus far is the direction the game is going. I'm unsure as to how many others think this and haven't said anything, so I'm going to say it. The street fighter characters do not belong in this game. I believe that this is supposed to be and should be a Power Rangers game ONLY. I can understand wanting to add some kind of flair to the game, but the addition of characters not of the Saban Universe isn't the right direction to go. I would love to see the addition of the Beetleborgs and VR Troopers. These are Saban brands I believe would be fun to add. Street Fighter is a huge brand that spans almost every gaming platform, minus app gaming, until now. If this is an attempt to help them to repopularize themselves to play on the app gaming platform, then they need to create their own, not piggyback on this. I say we keep this nothing but SABAN creations. Street Fighter characters need to go. My thots on the game By Nolimitmic806 (Pcmac user) Nway you guys have a master peace on your hands and you don't see it your n putting the game to its full potential you guys made a game with incredible characters graphics and you guys have not even scratch the surface you have to work on it more add more challenges that give you a chance to unlock more characters and you guys have a roast full of rangers and still haven't added a story mode and not every one wants to fight online and WiFi not everybody has WiFi and if you don't you miss out on lots of things that's why you guys should look at these 3 games 1.shadow fight 2.mortal kombat 3.injustice take some things from them like how shadow fight moves so they can doge hits mortal kombat because you don't need WiFi to play and they don't really have a story mode but they add towers so you can fight against opponents and it adds xp and upgrades characters and injustice because it allows you to choose opponents from your level to higher then your level and it lets you play challenges for hero shards and the morph boxes should not be the only way to get shards from yours truly number 1 fan Michael pina da god on power rangers and nolimitmic806 Pay to win This was once a beautiful, amazing game. I've been playing this game since it came out. Now it has turned into a pay to win game and Nway is totally fine with that. There is no longer balance with the new super abilities for the new rangers. It's a super unfair advantage. The only way to succeed past the bronze league is to fall in with the others who pay ridiculous amount of money to get chances for the new shards. If you don't give in, then you will be dominated almost every single time you bump into a player with a team of super rangers. The bronze league is already plagued with pay to win players. I could only imagine what the silver league is like and so on. I've played this game for about 2 years and I have yet to unlock Trent the white Dino ranger. One of the very first add ons to the game. That's what the chances of you getting an uncommon ranger are like when you don't pay. And even if you do pay it is not guaranteed you'll get any shards. The game would release a brand new super ranger and you'll already find someone who has him on the same day, upgraded and all. That's alot of money invested for that character I'm sure. You can not rely on your skill in this game anymore. Pay up or lose. A kid with money who started playing not too long ago will destroy you. It's frustrating!
