Styles, Schools and Movements offer a clear and lively guide to the movements of modern art. A unique visual map of the whole period in the form of an eight-page fold-out is followed by articles on 100 of the most significant movements of the modern period, with shorter voices on 200 more. To bring out interconnections and patterns of influence, articles are arranged in chronological order, divided into five main periods. The articles chronically tell the rise and impact of each style,and historical background, the work and life of the main figures, posters and exhibitions, judgments of critics and delight or outrage of the general public. Ideas behind styles are discussed, and each article is complemented by tips for reading further and where to see great art collections, particular emphasis is given to illustrations, many of which are of color, showing what the voices of the standard dictionary often fail to, the distinctive visual features of the art itself. organized with abundant cross references, texts and illustrations allow the reader to trace fascinating patterns of influence and reaction - over time, place and media - throughout the period. 1860-1900: rise of the avant gardes; 1900-1918: modernisms for a modern world; 1918-1945: the search for a new order; 1945-1960: a new disorder 1960-2000: beyond the gardes avant; 200 key styles: a dictionary. the book was read, but it is in good condition. the pages are intact and not married by notes or highlights.
